

The Infinity bath by Modulnova is crafted from Tecnoril, a solid surface material with a crisp white finish. The bath is shown here recessed into the floor, to enhance its already contemporary aesthetic. Available from DesignSpace London, the vessel can also be installed as a freestanding bath.

DesignSpace London /
designspacelondon.com

Crafted from the company's own Chadite material, this Windsor bath, designed by Sam Chadder for Chadder & Co is certainly eye catching. The company's Chadite material is crafted to look and feel like cast iron, but without the heavy weight and cold feel. The Windsor tub has been clad in a Copper Penny mosaic design; each circular piece of copper is individually placed on the vessel, by hand, to ensure precision. Being one of the company's smallest baths, at just 1,620mm in length, it is suited for a compact space.

Chadder & Co / chadder.com

Crafted from Arabescato marble, the Italian Arabescato marble bath, from Lapidica, is part of the company's contemporary baths selection. Each bath within the collection is carved from a single block of stone and is hand finished. Lapidica / lapidica.com

